Thinking About Developing Your Business in Britain? You Could Win a $25,000 Support Package. Enter the GO UK Business Plan Competition Now

For the second year running, UK Trade & Investment (UKTI) is running a competition to help Australian and New Zealand companies successfully set up a business in the UK.

Around eighty Australian and New Zealand businesses expand their business presence in the UK each year, most of these with the help of UKTI, the British Government's trade and development arm. UKTI offers personalised, professional help with everything businesses need to succeed in the UK including advice on visas, company location, tax issues, employment, banking and much more. But none of them get quite the helping hand that the Go UK competition provides.

Win business-class return flights to the UK as part of a $25,000 package of business support

BNZBA appreciates the support of Gold Sponsor

Three selected Australian winners and one New Zealand winner will get return business class flights to the UK provided by British Airways as part of a business-support package worth $25,000 to help make sure their UK business will be a success. The prizes will be awarded to the companies who present the best business plan in the opinion of the judges.

Submissions for the UK Trade & Investment Go UK Business Plan Competition 2011 are open now.

Deadline for entries is 5pm on 10 February 2012.
